Health and Safety Law

What you need to know

All workers have a right to work in places where risks to their health and safety are properly controlled. Health and safety is about stopping you getting hurt at work or ill through work. Your employer is responsible for health and safety, but you must help.

What employers must do for you	What you must do	If there's a problem
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Decide what could harm you in your job and the precautions to stop it. This is part of risk assessment. 2 In a way you can understand, explain how risks will be controlled and tell you who is responsible for this. 3 Consult and work with you and your health and safety representatives in preventing everyone from harm in the workplace. 4 Free of charge, give you the health and safety training you need to do your job. 5 Free of charge, provide you with any equipment and protective clothing you need, and ensure it is properly looked after. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 6 Provide safety, washing facilities and drinking water. 7 Provide adequate first aid facilities. 8 Report injuries, diseases and dangerous incidents at work to our Incident Contact Centres 0845 300 9923 9 Have insurance that covers you in case you get hurt at work or ill through work. Keep a hard copy or electronic copy of the current insurance certificate where you can easily find it. 10 Work with any other employers or contractors sharing the workplace or providing equipment back to agency workers, so that everyone's health and safety is protected. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 If you are worried about health and safety in your workplace, talk to your employer, supervisor, or health and safety representative. 2 You can also look at our website for general information about health and safety at work. 3 If after talking with your employer, you are still worried, phone our helpline. We can give you in touch with the local enforcing authority for health and safety and the Employment Medical Advisory Service. You don't have to give your name.
